EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Defence for Children International-Ghana has been promoting and protecting the rights of children in Ghana for more than twenty years through various child protection programmes and activities. In the year under review, DCI-Ghana implemented two main projects namely; the Girls Advocacy Alliance and Combating Child Trafficking with funding from the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs through DCI-ECPAT, Netherlands and Agir Ensemble/FDH as donors respectively. These projects were implemented in three districts in the Ashanti Region of Ghana namely; the Kumasi Metropolis, Asokore Mampong and Obuasi Municipality. Key strategies used during project implementation involved linking & networking, Lobbying, advocacy, campaign and capacity support. Key activities for the year 2017 projects involved awareness raising, campaigns, capacity support for networking, life planning skills sessions and provision of socio legal protective services using the child protection and communication for development tool kits developed by the Department of Community Development/UNICEF.

Some achievements in 2017 from the projects implemented included; strengthening of referral networks in Kumasi Metropolis and Obuasi municipalities; awareness raising to estimated 205,000 households; capacity building for some 450 government officials, children and community leaders; lobbying and advocacy with 27 government officials and CSOs socio-legal protective services to some 4,299 girls, boys and young women through mediation, referrals and counseling. Monitoring of the living conditions of 116 ex-trafficked children in Ghana.

1.0 Introduction

Defence for Children International (DCI) is an independent Non-Governmental Organization and a global movement for children's rights. It has been promoting and protecting children's rights on a global, regional, national and local level for over 30 years. Defence for Children International is represented through its national sections and associated members in some 35 countries worldwide, with an International Secretariat based in Geneva, Switzerland. Defence for Children International Ghana is the national section of DCI in Ghana.

DCI Ghana operates to defend the rights of the child by advocating for and disseminating policies that protect the rights of children, building the capacities of child protection institutions and structures at national, district and community levels as well as empowering children for their self-protection and overall development. DCI-Ghana aims at promoting and protecting the rights of children as enshrined in the UN Convention on the rights of the child and the Ghanaian laws that concern children, with the vision of having a Ghana where children's rights are fully known and respected by all. Considering this, DCI-Ghana's objectives are as follows:

- To influence the development, enforcement and implementation of policies that protect the rights of children
- To foster sustainable cooperation and solidarity with government, UN and other agencies on children's rights
- To sensitize the public on the rights of the child
- To highlight child rights violations at national and international level in order to promote accountability and access to justice for the victims
- To facilitate the rehabilitation and reintegration of children from prisons, child victims of abuse and other vulnerable children

In the year 2017, DCI-Ghana promoted and protected children rights and child justice through the implementation of the Girl Advocacy Alliance Project and Child Trafficking Project. This report highlights the project activities and achievements in 2017.

2.0 Brief Details of the Projects Executed in 2017.

2.1 Girls Advocacy Alliance Project (GAAP)

The Girls Advocacy Alliance Project (GAAP) is a follow up project on the Girl Power Project implemented from 2011 to 2016. DCI-Ghana, Ghana NGO Coalition on the Rights of the Child (GNCRC) and Plan International Ghana are the Alliance partners implementing the project in Ghana with financial support from the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs through the Dutch Alliance partners comprising Defence for Children International/ECPAT Netherlands, Terres Des Hommes and Plan International.

DCI-Ghana is implementing the project in 40 communities in Kumasi, Asokore Mampong and Obuasi municipalities in Ashanti region, Ghana.

2.2 Child Trafficking Project (CTP)

DCI-Ghana undertook a project on combating trafficked children in the Kumasi metropolis, Asokore Mamapong and Obuasi with the financial support from Agir Ensemble and Foundation Pour Les Droits Humanins in 2017. The project was integrated into the ongoing projects on Girls Advocacy Alliance. The CTP benefited some 116 ex-trafficked children through sensitization, follow ups and monitoring visits.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

3.2.8 Capacity building for staff: four (4) staff of DCI-Ghana participated in trainings organized by Plan Ghana and two other staff also participated in trainings organized by Ashanti Regional Community Development Department. These trainings built the capacity of staff on child protection, the basic principles in child protection, community entering, monitoring and evaluation, the use of community development tools, family based care and foster homes, and online safety,

3.2.9. Technical Support: DCI-Ghana continued to enjoy technical support from Defence for Children International/ECPAT (DCIECPAT) in the project implementation through regular communication, progress reporting, monitoring visits and capacity sessions. This enhanced the capacity of the organization in project implementation, assessment, learning and linking on project outcomes

3.3 Advocacy, Linking and Networking

3.3.1 Strengthening CSO Networks: Six (6) network meetings were organised for 22 civil society organisations in Kumasi metropolis, Asokore Mampong municipality and Obuasi municipality to strengthen networks dialogues with government partners. These organisations include Kawda Foundation, Street Children Project, Street Children Development Foundation, Empowerment Centre for Women and Children, Light for Children and FIDA.

3.3.2 Strengthening of Local Child Protection Teams (LCPTs):

Twenty (20) Local Child Protection Teams (LCPTs) were strengthened through sensitization, training and meetings in the Obuasi, Kumasi and Asokore Mampong municipalities to lead in the lobbying and advocacy campaigns at the local and district levels.

3.4 Child Protection and Child Justice

3.4.1 Socio-Legal Protective Services: Social-legal assistance were provided to 451 persons, of which 289 were girls and young women representing 64% and 163 boys, representing 36% in the Kumasi metropolis, Asokore Mampong municipality and Obuasi Municipality. This was achieved through the two (2) socio-legal defence centers for children in Kumasi and Obuasi. The nature of violence cases reported included child maintenance, child marriage, defilement, rape, indecent assault, child neglect, child labor, child trafficking, murder, fighting, truancy, stealing, among others. Services provided to the victims/survivors were counseling, mediation, referrals, medical treatment, tracing of families, withdrawals and monitoring.

3.4.2 Withdrawal of Trafficked Children: One hundred and fifty (150) child victims between the ages of 7 and 17 years, were identified through outreaches to areas prone to trafficking by field staff as well as information received from Community Child Protection Committee members and the public. Victims identified were from the three northern regions of Ghana, part of Brong Ahafo and Central Region. Families of these victims were traced and the victims were reintegrated into society through formal education, vocational training and reuniting with their families. Some of the ex-trafficked victims are still with their employers who have enrolled them in schools and vocational training to advance their living conditions. Field staffs frequently monitor these children who are living with their guardians to ensure that they are not exploited again.

3.4.3 Follow Ups on ex-trafficking: Follow-ups were made to monitor the situations 451 ex-trafficked children withdrawn from 2013-2016 project periods. The field staff and the social workers conducted several follows - up activities, by visiting the extrafficked children in their various communities or camps, to monitor their living conditions and to ensure that their rights are being protected. During the visits, it was identified by field staff that the ex-trafficked children are either enrolled in school and vocations of their choice and others living with their parents. Families and guardians were provided with education and social counseling on the rights of children and protection against violence and discussed their welfare issues with them. The project staff interacted with the families to examine the living conditions of the re-integrated children it was comprehended during the various discussions that though most families are financially unsound but they are putting in their best to seek for the survival and the development of the children.

3.4.4 Strengthening Child Protection Committees & Networks:

The organization continued to participate in the district, regional and national networks, committees and consultative groups to strengthen child protection systems in Ghana.

3.4.5 International Advocacy: DCI-Ghana participated in the international advocacy through collaboration with the international Secretariat of Defence for Children International, and the Girls Advocacy Alliance Partners of Ghana NGO Coalition on the Rights of the Child and Plana International Ghana. Joint submission on sexual violence, child abuse, child marriage, commercial sexual exploitation of children and economic empowerment of girls and young women were submitted for the Universal Periodic Review by the United Nations Human Rights Council in Geneva in March 2017. DCI-Ghana and its Girls Advocacy Alliance partners re following up on the outcomes of the review for national advocacy in favour of girls and young women.

4.0 Special Events:

4.1.1 Universal Children's Day Celebration:

Universal Children's Day offers each of us an inspirational entry-point to advocate, promote and celebrate children's rights, translating into dialogues and actions that will build a better world for Children. To celebrate 2017 Universal Children's Day, DCI-Ghana started with a 19 days of Activism (thus 1st -19th November) and increased its outreach programs to communities and institutions to ensure that the UN Sustainable Development Goal- Target # 16.2 becomes a call Action to end abuse, child marriage, exploitation, trafficking and all forms of violence against and torture of children. DCI-Ghana due to its numerous activities celebrated the universal children's day with Brahabebome JHS girls on the 27 November 2017 at the Brahabebome JHS, Obuasi. The total number of participants at the celebration was 150 girls.

Fig 7. Celebration of the universal children's day in session

4.1.2 International Day of the Girl Child Celebration:

International Day of the Girl Child is an international observance day declared by the United Nations. It is also called the Day of the Girl. October 11, 2012, was the first celebration Day of the Girl. The observation provides more opportunity for girls and increases awareness of gender inequality faced by girls worldwide. This inequality includes areas such as right to education, nutrition, legal rights, medical care, and protection from discrimination, violence against women and child marriage. The celebration of the day also "reflects the successful emergence of girls and young women as a distinct cohort in development policy, programming, campaigning and research.

DCI-Ghana, as part of the Partners that ensure that the Ghanaian girl is empowered in order to fulfill her potentials, organised a join ceremonial event at St. Thomas JHS, Obuasi. The theme for 2017 celebration was the "Power of the Adolescent Girls" but DCI-Ghana aim for the day's celebration was to "spur global attention and action to the challenges and opportunities girls face before, during, and after crises". 307 participants took part in the celebration. These participants were from organizations like GES, Community Development Department, and Social welfare, Ghana News Agency, The Chronicle and Time FM and students of St. Thomas JHS.

REPORT OF THE AUDITORS TO THE MEMBERS OF DEFENCE FOR CHILDREN INTERNATIONAL – GHANA

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Defence for Children International – Ghana which comprise the Statement of Financial Position as at 31st December, 2017, and the Statement of Comprehensive Income and Expenditure for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and explanatory notes.

Directors' Responsibility for the financial statements

The Executive Council is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and with the requirements of the Ghana Companies Code, 1963 (Act 179). This responsibility includes; designing, implementing and maintaining internal controls relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies; and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Executive Committee, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Defence for Children International – Ghana as of 31st December, 2017, and of its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and Ghana Companies Code, 1963 (act 179).

Report of Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

The Ghana Companies Code, 1963 (Act 179) requires that in carrying out our audit we consider and report on the following matters. We confirm that;

- We have obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of or audit.
- In our opinion proper books of accounts have been kept by the organization, so far as appears from our examination of those books; and
- iii) The Statement of Financial Position and Statement of Comprehensive Income and Expenditure Account of the organization are in agreement with the books of account.
